AEC HACKATHON

sia

The Swiss Society of Engineers and Architects (SIA) is Switzerland's leading professional association for construction, technology and environment specialists with more than 16'000 members.

Our norms are important guidelines for the design of the built environment.
But you need to know exactly where to look to find the right information for your specific problems.

our challenge: SIA_GPT

Help us to make the content of our norms available 24/7 for specific questions.
In real time.

We look forward to working with you!
